

INTRODUCTION

Ladies and gentlemen,

Our next speaker is one who has been in leadership of teams and employees for more than 20 years. As you work with her today on employee development and motivation, you'll find ways to work even better with others, understand your own style, and how to effectively recognize and ask for help from those you lead. And in fact, in all of that, I think you'll find that she is indeed positively Contagious!

A few things that you might like to know... Monica Wofford has spoken in all 50 states, presented in many countries, published 140 articles, written five books, and has built the training and consulting firm Contagious Companies, Inc. Her firm also produces Contagious Conferences and Monday Moment audios and blog posts known as Contagious Commentary.

Please help me welcome, speaker, author, trainer, and coach, as well as CEO, contagious lady, and our friend...
